GEAR TALK | Thread: Hollowridge Trailfire 3 announced

anyone else think hollowridge is getting ready to sell the company? a buddy who knows a guy at one of their retailers said the price drop on the trailfire is because a bigger outdoor brand is about to buy them out and wants the sales numbers to look good before the deal closes. no idea if that's true but it would explain the timing lol source? feels like the kind of thing people say every time a brand drops a price
